Sleep Etiquette

SLEEP WELL. DRESS BETTER.

Brand vision & launch deck

*good nights,
better dressed.*

01 — BRAND DECK

Sleepwear with standards.

A fashion-first pajama label for women who care about how they look at home, too.

The Sleep Etiquette turns bedtime into a style category—not an afterthought.

The opportunity is to sit between overly sweet sleepwear and basic loungewear: flattering silhouettes, breathable fabrics, fresh prints, dependable quality and an accessible price point.

EDITORIAL

02 / CUSTOMER

For the girl who gets dressed for herself.

She wants comfort without looking careless—and trend without looking try-hard.

01 She buys

Rhode, Aritzia, Skims, Eberjey, Djerf Avenue and beauty-led lifestyle brands.

02 She values

Softness, flattering cuts, accessible pricing, durable quality and thoughtful details that work across bodies and heights.

03 She saves

Editorial campaigns, hotel mornings, matching sets, color stories and “off-duty” styling.

04 She wants

Pajamas that feel attractive, current and easy enough to actually sleep in.

CORE CUSTOMER

Women 22–38 • fashion-aware • social-first • beauty + wellness adjacent • willing to pay for elevated basics

Mindset > demographic: “I want my at-home wardrobe to look as considered as the rest of my closet.”

The white space: pretty, not precious.

A modern sleepwear brand with a sharper fashion point of view.

Cut first. Fabric second. Print third.

Every style should earn its place through silhouette, comfort, inclusive fit and repeat wear.

01
The Perfect Shirt Set

relaxed collar • curved hem

02
The Boxer Set

easy boxer • flattering rise

03
The Long Set

soft drape • clean piping

04
The Sleep Dress

minimal straps • bias feel

FIT STANDARD • inclusive size range • petite / regular / tall lengths where construction allows • adjustable details • fit-tested on multiple body types

Cool to the touch. Easy to live in.

Avoid the shiny, sweaty satin problem. Prioritize breathable hand-feel, washability and fabrics that still look beautiful after repeat wear.

TENCEL™ / Lyocell	Fluid, breathable, smooth and premium-feeling.	Hero fabric
Cotton Modal	Soft, familiar and less rigid than traditional cotton.	Core fabric
Cotton Poplin Blend	Crisp editorial look for boxer and shirt silhouettes.	Seasonal
Viscose Blend	Great drape and print clarity; test carefully for shrinkage.	Selective

NON-NEGOTIABLE: repeated wash testing • shrinkage control • opacity • pilling • seam strength • colorfastness • shape retention

The Sunday Set.

A tight first collection that establishes silhouette, color and brand codes.

PRINT PHILOSOPHY • original-feeling • fashion-aware • seasonal without becoming disposable • recognizable from across the room

Launch architecture: 2 hero silhouettes × 4 solids + 1 fresh signature print. Prints should feel collectible and current—not generic, overly sweet or recycled season after season.

A little etiquette. Zero stiffness.

The brand voice should feel knowing, feminine, dry and fashion-literate.

THE SLEEP ETIQUETTE

Sleep Well. Dress Better.

Brand codes

- editorial serif + clean sans
- cream / black / muted color
- close crops + flash photography
- witty rules of sleep
- minimal packaging, tactile details

RULE 01

Never sacrifice
the outfit for the occasion.

Yes, bedtime counts.

Make the feed feel like a magazine.

Product is the anchor; lifestyle is what makes people want in.

RULE

Content pillars: fit & fabric • “rules” of sleep • founder POV • getting-ready-for-bed rituals • hotel/travel • UGC styling • limited color drops

Build desire before inventory.

A lean 12-week path from concept to a first proof-of-demand moment.

Best early KPI: waitlist conversion + full-price sell-through—not follower count.

Start narrow. Learn fast.

The first drop should validate product-market fit before expanding the wardrobe.

01 Pricing hypothesis

$58–$88 target set range, subject to final costing. The goal: elevated design and durable quality at a price that still feels attainable.

02 Channel

DTC-first through Shopify; Instagram/TikTok as discovery, email/SMS as conversion and retention engines.

03 Inventory

Small initial run or controlled preorder. Reorder winners, refine fit from real feedback and expand lengths/sizing intentionally.

DECISIONS TO MAKE NEXT

- Lock 2 launch silhouettes
- Source 3–5 fabric swatches
- Define target landed cost
- Create supplier outreach brief
- Secure domain + social handles
- Build waitlist landing page

Sleep well. Dress better.

A new dress code for doing absolutely nothing.

*good night,
but make it fashion.*

Build your set, your way.

One print. Six silhouettes. Customers choose the combination that works for their body, height, sleep temperature and personal style.

TOPS

COLLARED SHORT SLEEVE

Classic pajama shirt • polished enough for lounging

COLLARED LONG SLEEVE

Same collar + print language • cooler-weather option

TANK

Clean, minimal neckline • warm sleepers + summer

BOTTOMS

PAJAMA SHORT

Flattering everyday short • easy matching set

BOXER

Relaxed, borrowed-from-him silhouette • cool-girl staple

FULL-LENGTH PANT

Petite / regular / tall where feasible • adjustable waist

THE RULE

Every seasonal print and core color should work across the wardrobe.

Matching collars, piping and trim keep combinations cohesive.

Buy a summer set now. Add the long pant or long sleeve later.

Soft enough for bed. Strong enough for real life.

Sample first and choose by performance. The goal: breathable, skin-conscious, responsibly sourced sleepwear that can genuinely handle the washer.

01 TENCEL™ MODAL ★ PRIORITY

Buttery-soft • breathable • fluid drape

Excellent candidate for tanks, boxers and soft sets.

Test mostly-modal options plus modal + organic cotton blends.

02 TENCEL™ LYOCELL ★ PRIORITY

Cool, smooth hand feel • moisture management • elevated finish

Strong candidate for lightweight seasonal collections and warm sleepers.

03 MODAL + ORGANIC COTTON ★

Softness + structure • breathable • familiar pajama feel

Especially promising for collared shirts and full-length pants.

ALSO SAMPLE • 100% organic cotton • certified cellulosic blends

WASH TEST: shrinkage • pilling • twisting • fading • print durability • softness • seam integrity • shape retention

Colors with names worth remembering.

Short, conversational names make the palette feel ownable—and give customers a reason to ask for their favorite by name.

FUTURE NAMES • Oat • Espresso • Cloud • Chambray • Pistachio

Core colors stay recognizable. Seasonal shades rotate in and out.

A pajama brand that moves like fashion.

Keep a recognizable core collection while introducing limited colors and fresh prints throughout the year.
